

New Feature available on all Halo Scanners (a first for South Africa)

Let's enable your Halo scanner to download a hotlist of reported lost animals with contact number directly to the Scanner's internal memory. By installing this feature your Halo act as a stand-alone unit displaying the contact details on the scanner screen once it was reported as lost. www.getmeknown.co.za/hotlist.

To upgrade your Halo connect the scanner via the USB port on your computer, then please click on the upgrade link on the same page www.getmeknown.co.za/hotlist (for Windows only).

Click on setup and then just follow the instructions on your computer screen.

After the Halo upgrade was installed, you can view a list of all microchips scanned on your computer screen and each time your Halo is connected to re-charge then an updated "hotlist" will automatically download to the Halo's internal memory.

You can test this by listing one of your own dogs as lost, connect the scanner to the internet computer for a minute and unplug, scan the "Lost" chip and look what is displayed on the scanner's screen. It is showing this chip as lost with a contact number

Please inform everybody with a lost Pet to head over and "Hotlist" their Microchip.
